TRADES DAY MEETING.

At a meeting of the merchants interested in Hondo's trades day program, held at the Hondo Hotel Tuesday evening, the first business on the program was the election of officers.

The old officers were re-elected
as follows:

Felix Batot, President.

Henry Merriman, Vice-President.

Miss Josie Lebold, Secretary.

Miss Lebold has served in the combined capacity of Secretary and Treasurer, but it was decided to separate the two positions, and Mr. Alfred Schweers was elected Treasurer.

Owing to a recent advance in the cost of tickets the price per pad to merchants using the same was raised from 25c to 35c.

Messrs. Felix Batot and Henry Merriman were appointed a committee to call any conferees they may wish to assist them in planning a new schedule of gift premiums for distribution on trades day. Their plan will be announced before the next trades day event.

The meeting adjourned in the midst of the rain that was falling at the time.

MUENNINK TRACTOR & IM- PLEMENT COMPANY GIVES SHOW.

People interested in tractor farming and the use of improved farm machinery were given a very instructive
exhibition of the tractor in action on the farm at the display room of the Highway Garage Thursday night of last week.

Messrs. Bitters and Eric of the Allis-Chalmers Implement Company
sales forces and E. B. Mullinaux, District Sales Manager, gave a movie exhibition of the various uses to which a tractor can be put on various types of farms. The reels were interspersed by instructive talks by the sales force.

The Muennink Tractor & Implement Co., composed of Clarence Van Fleet and George Muennink, who have recently taken over the sale of this popular line of farm implements,
were pleased with the interest manifested in the show and are ready to follow it up with practical demonstrations of the tractors and implements themselves.

See their display announcement

SENIORS PRESENTED A HUMOR- OUS DRAMA

From The Owl.

The senior play, "April's Fool", really drew the crowd! The present school officials declared it was the largest crowd a school activity has ever had here. There were approximately six hundred attendants. The gate receipts taken in were the largest yet, about $50 more than last year's. The class hasn't decided what to do with their profit, but intend to give some gift to the school.

The stage was fixed so nice and cozy we could hardly recognize it as ours. I'm sure you will agree with me in saying it had a perfect arrangement and the property or furniture couldn't have been better selected. The lights were handled wonderfully in changing from night
to day.

The actors should be congratulated on the way they put their parts over. Everything went along smoothly—no stuttering or breaking of lines. The actors held their characters which made it very convincing and entertaining. Every voice was heard plainly; in fact so plainly the crowd was kept laughing the whole time. Sometimes lines had to be held up for the laughing to cease.

The humorous characters were very good. I'm sure no one could have acted dumber or noisier than Gwen Gray. If anyone wants to know how to fix their hair and face attractively go to Gwen for advice.

"Dear old grandpa" really made a hit even though he was hard to handle. Go to Martin if you want advice about making love. Who could have been a better gossipper
than Merle McCall or a constant
"griper" than Anna Marie Saathoff?
(No one in my opinion.) Did you ever see Murrel or Vernell Stiegler act so dignified? Take a hint from J. H. Rothe, boys, and never stutter or drink "hard cider" when trying to win "that" girl. We all know how good our leading lady was and the other actors also.

The following is the cast of characters:

Amarilla Pennypacker, the Duffy's
hired girl—Gwendolyn Gray.

Mrs. Daggs a neighbor—Merle McCall.

Elbert Phipps, a theological student—Edmund Ney.

Martha Duffy, "Grandma"—Jo
Reily.

Jacob M. Duffy, "Grandpa"—Martin Noonan.

Ted Carter, "April's Fool"—J. H.
Rothe.

Homer Duffy, a business man—
John Mumme.

Etta Duffy, his wife—Anna Marie Saathoff.

April Trevis, the beloved granddaughter—Ginger Fusselman.

Elizabeth Trevis, her mother—
Vernell Stiegler.

Meredith Van Courtney, April's
wealthy suitor—Murrel Stiegler.

The young people are being showered with well-deserved congratulations on the excellent manner in which they rendered their play.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH.

We were happy to bring another treat for the people of Hondo and vicinity who like good music, when a double concert was presented at the Lutheran Church last Thursday night. Mr. Otto Baganz, the harpist, with two children, Reuben and Norma, who played the Vibraharp, composed one group, while Mr. Or-ben Sime played several instruments and sang a group of hymns and chorals. Two concerts were rendered to accommodate the large number who were eager to hear.

Mr. Baganz, who plays on a harp valued at $10,000 and which required two years to build, thrilled the audience with beautiful renditions of sacred songs. The theme song and "A Mighty Fortress is our God" were arranged by Mr. Baganz. Some of the well-known numbers were:
"What a Friend We Have in Jesus"
and "Jesus Lover of My Soul" on the Vibraharp; "Beautiful Savior", "O Sacred Head Now Wounded" with harp and therefrom and two German chorals, "Wake, Awake, for Night is Flying" on the harp and "Harre meine Seele" vocal solo with harp accompaniment. A special harp number, a composition by Mr. Ba-ganz entitled "The Song of the Old Church Bell", was much appreciated.

Weird and uncanny perhaps best describe the mystifying instrument known as the "theremin", which made its first appearance in our section. Mr. Sime plays this RCA invention without keys or strings, the hands control the tone and volume,
the music being produced, so he explained, by the electricity from the body. The voice has nothing to do with it. A "cello" with one string and made with an ordinary pitchfork was Mr. Sime's own invention.

Within a year these artists hope to come to Texas again and we may hear them in another concert. On this tour they intend to play a wider range of musical compositions, classical numbers among them. However, these men will travel separately as they have been accustomed to do in the past, with the exception of the last few weeks, and will present individual concerts. Hondo will welcome them again, and they will be glad to return. They enjoyed the attentive audience they found here
and were well satisfied with the appreciation manifested.

Next Sunday, April 25, German service at 10:30 A. M. Sunday school and Bible class at 9:00 A. M.
English service will be held next Sunday night at 7:30 P. M.

The new class to be instructed preparatory for confirmation will be organized on Saturday morning, April 24, at 9:00 A. M. Children 13 years or over are entitled to admittance into the class.

SMASH MUSICAL HIT TO SHOW.

With Sonja Henie, Queen of the Silvery Skates, executing dazzling dances on crystal ice and romancing
with Don Ameche, Adolphe Menjou
pulling another hilarious performance out of his gag-bag, Jean Hersholt more lovable than ever, Ned Sparks dead-panning his way to new laughs, the Ritz Brothers running amusingly amuck, Arline Judge
cute, captivating and comical, Borrah Minevitch and his gang playing hot rhythms on their harmonicas, and Dixie Dunbar, Leah Ray and Shirley Deane contributing beauty and hide-ho, "One In A Million", the Twentieth Century-Fox spectacular musical smash, shows Wednesday and Thursday at the Colonial Theatre.

Set in a brilliant new world of delirious new thrills, "One In A Million" tells a story of love burning as sun on snow, sprinkled with fun,
roaring as an open fire, with songs
you'll remember as the year's big hits.

QUIHI NOTES.

Hinder me not, seeing the Lord
hath prospered my way; send me
away that I may go to my master.
Gen. 24:56.

By this time we know speaker and speech. A characteristic man with a characteristic tone and resolution in his statements, Eliezer. The night
had been full of mirth and gaiety,
but without excess and over-indulgence. They could rise early. No
swig or jag or befuddled and groggy
after-effects. No one had to ask,
"Stands Scotland where it did?"
They were not "a good sort but a bad lot". They all knew, "there is a higher law than the constitution"
or social codes that would permit debauchery, without compunction, that "lawless science of our laws". His mind was clear and set as ever before. "Send me away unto my master." "But now they all realize the
"all so sudden" of the whole thing.
They plead for time, at least ten days. They already feel an aching void at Rebekah's going. By no means are they in for "speeding the parting guest". Scheiden tut weh.
The severing of homes ties has always been a cruel procedure. "Tis true 'tis pity; and pity 'tis 'tis true."
Many dread the farewell scenes.
Many are setting up barriers against their future and success just because they never risk the parting. They expect their opportunities all must march toward their "Home, Sweet Home". Not a few matrimonial prospects go on the rocks—they had implied a location, a home, far away from the parental abode, breaking the hearts of homefolks. Do hearts break that fast? Why the delay attempt in the house of Nahor? Softening in their word of promise? Does delay not make a parting every day, in thought and tears? Trousseau worries? Farewell festivities and formalities? Counseling the affair with relatives and friends and neighbors and collecting their advice? Little need of all that. "Boot! saddle!
to horse (camel) and away!" That's Eliezer's proposal. And a good reason for it. The Lord has brought all to a fine finish. He has won the bride. He will take care of minor matters. And another good reason:
The young master, the bridegroom,
waiting at the other end, anxiously, prayerfully and hopefully. The way out? "We will call the damsel, and enquire at her mouth." We can anticipate her answer, for the Lord
had touched her heart.

Another fine program was put over last Sunday by the Luther League. Did you enjoy it? A fair number of visitors had come to listen
in. Also a number of outside listeners. The inside offers more. "Don't be afraid!" says the man on the street. Always welcome. We have touched upon a running topic that should interest you. If you have something better, bring it; we'll be glad to give you the "floor" and we'll listen with every ear.

We might as well mention the numbers for the next program: Recitations, Mrs. Roy Daley, Miss Edna Loosberg; select readings, Lewis
Boehle, Miss Esther Neumann; vocal selections, Mrs. Alfred Boehle, Mr.
Otto Lindeburg; instrumental number, Miss Pauline Saathoff. Try to find a substitute if you are unable to serve. We have plenty of local talent around here, though over-modest and shy in public. Again, "Don't be afraid!"

A fine motion carried in the business meeting of the League. The League will assume the expense for the erection of a new fence around the church property here. The old one has served its time rather too long and has outlived its usefulness and beauty. Thanks a lot!

And on Monday, the birthday of the bride, came a modest yet happy wedding. Mr. Alfred Winkler, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Winkler, led his chosen bride to the altar, Miss Hulda Elizabeth Oefinger, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Oefinger. We are rather rusty on details, otherwise we might describe a few details. The ring-exchange was a part of the ceremony. Mr.
and Mrs. Louis Oefinger were the witnesses at this happy occasion. After a short trip to Corpus Christi and vicinity, the new home will be in the Leinweber settlement. We sincerely trust that the young wife will be able to remain a member of the choir and the League, where she has served so long and faithfully. Godspeed to you both, is the wish of their many friends.

Announcements for April 25th:
German service at New Fountain at 10; Sunday school and Junior Bible class at 9:30; English service at 8 P.
M. The Lord has a right to look for
you. Come.

SIT-DOWNERS.

By Clayton Rand.

From a distance this sit-downer business looks silly. Some of us in the country can't even comprehend it.

A few years ago men walked
the streets of Detroit in rags.
Thousands of them sought jobs,
stood in line at soup kitchens or sat around on benches in public parks.

Now they sit down on the job
they have, and the contagion of it spreads over the country like the jig-saw craze or the influenza.

I wonder what would happen to these workmen if people over the country sat down on the idea of buying any cars?

As far as I am concerned I wish every fellow that sat down on the job got boils. Idleness never cured a country's economic ills and never will.

SPRINGTIME IS CLEAN-UP TIME.

You can see the signs of spring fever almost everywhere. Farmers are plowing and sowing their fields.
Suburbanites are planting their gardens. Housewives are cleaning and revamping homes. Communities are starting improvement projects.

Winter is apt to be a time of neglect—partly because of severe weather and partly because of the press of other matters in that busy season. Vacant lots, yards and even streets become unsightly. Now is the time for a thorough spring cleaning,
extending through the community,
in the interest of health, safety and civic progress.

Such a clean-up campaign is a splendid activity for civic clubs, chambers of commerce, Boy Scouts and similar groups to sponsor. Every town should emulate those communities which, through a spirit of fine cooperation, have succeeded in gaining the name of "Spotless town".

When a movement to paint up,
clean-up and beautify sweeps a community, it leaves in its wake a healthier, happier town. From the standpoint of fire safety alone, the movement pays big dividends—as the records show, many a disastrous fire has been caused by rubbish and litter. Drop a cigarette or a cigar butt into an accumulation of trash and a conflagration may follow—
furthermore, piled rubbish is always susceptible to spontaneous ignition.

Carry out the clean-up campaign
by carefully burning all trash in incinerators and under close supervision. Every citizen and every business will benefit—socially and economically.—Industrial News Review.

TAXING THE LITTLE FELLOW.

People of small and moderate means may think they escape taxation because they pay few or no direct taxes. But they are in reality
among the heaviest taxed of all people, on a percentage basis.

A study conducted in two typical states, Illinois and New York, by Dr.
Mabel Newcomer, Vassar economist,
is of special interest. In New York
a typical wage-earner with an income of $2,000, pays $276 to $334 annually in taxes. In Illinois, where there is a sales tax, he pays between $279
and $359.

HONDO WINS GIRLS' DECLAMATION.

Pearsall greatly outdistanced the other schools in the District Meet held in Pearsall last Saturday. With only a three-way tie in the track meet to boost the school score, the literary entrants outclassed the other schools in practically every division.

Hondo Wins Girls' Declamation

Hondo was represented in only two literary events. Ginger Fusselman won first place in Senior Girls' Declamation. Edmund Ney won third in Essay Writing.

Typewriting

Wanda Dawson, Anna Laura Renken, and Burleigh Smith, Hondo's typing team, walked away with practically all typing honors. Hondo's team score of 129.85 was well out in front of the second place winners, Brackettville, who had a team score of 118.19. Uvalde won third place in the team placement with a score of 113.43.

Wanda Dawson came through to win the blue ribbon in the individual event with a score of 134. The next highest score went to her teammate, Anna Laura Renken, who scored 119.20. Burleigh Smith had hard luck but came out an official fourth place winner in the individual scoring. The other two entrants who qualified for the Regional Meet are L. Hiler, third place winner from Pearsall, and Dorothy Johnson, fifth place winner from Carrizo Springs.

Track

The Hondo track squad tied Pearsall for third place with Pearsall and Boek Springs. Carrizo Springs took first place and Yancey took second. The dash men of the squad who were going "Great Guns" in the county meet didn't burn any leather in the final heat Saturday P. M. Cameron, who runs the 440-yard dash, and of whom Hondo track fans expected a win, finished in fourth place in the final heat of the 440 after beating the time in that heat by over one second in the prelims. Ward of Carrizo Springs and Crain of Yancey tied for high-point man honors with ten points each. The following are the results of the track:

120 High Hurdles—Gardner, Carrizo Springs.
100-yard Dash—Ward, Carrizo Springs; Rothe, Hondo; Finger, Hondo.
220 Low Hurdles—Lagrone, Asherton.
220-yard Dash—Ward, Carrizo Springs; Finger, Hondo; Rothe, Hondo; Windrow, Hondo. Time, 23.4.
Rothe and Ward tying old record.
440-yard dash—Sweeten, Camp Wood; Laxson, Pearsall, third; Cameron, Hondo, fourth. Time 56.5.
880-yard Run—Carrizo Springs, first; Watson, Eagle Pass, second.

Shot Put—Crain, Yancey.
Discus—Crain, Yancey; Forrester, Pearsall.
Pole Vault—Bell, Carrizo Springs. Height, 10' 6".
High Jump—Fowler, Sabinal. Height, 5' 8".
Broad Jump—Springfield, Natalia; Finger, Hondo, fourth. Distance, 20'.
Mile Run—Moreno, Del Rio; J. Fohn, Yancey.
Five Mile Relay—Carrizo Springs, Pearsall, Del Rio. Time, 3:42.

OWLS TROUNCE DILLEY.

The Hondo Owls found someone whom they could master Monday, when they went to Dilley and clubbed out a 34 to 1 win. Dilley used four pitchers, each taking their turn in facing the big grins. The pitchers for Dilley didn't exactly burn the air with that fast one or wrap any curves around the batters' necks, which accounts for the sudden hitting spree of the Hondo batters. The pitchers used by the Owls were Epp Finger, who started, Rucker and Grell. The three combined to strike out 13 men in seven innings, and allowed one hit during the game. The same teams will play the Owls here Wednesday afternoon for the district championship.

Bi-District Next

The Owls should win from Dilley again Wednesday, and Friday they will go to Gonzales to play the first bi-district game. These boys seem to have a mighty good team and the Owls will have to put out to beat them. The game should be a good one so let's have a little support from you baseball loving fans.

The teams will return the game here the following week, April 30.

MRS. THORP ON SAD MISSION

Saturday night Mrs. Thorp received a telephone call from Jacksonville, Texas, to her home in Houston, that her brother, K. M. Enderle, was dangerously ill and not expected to live. She drove to Brookshire early Sunday morning to notify ye editor that she would join her other brothers and sisters at his bedside, but upon arriving back in Houston a telegram was waiting with the sad news that her brother was dead, and the remains were being taken to D'Hanis, Texas, his old home, for burial, so Mrs. Thorp, stricken with grief for a brother she dearly loved, sped south on that long road to her old home town, where once they played, that happy family of stalwart boys and girls, now to give back to our Creator another precious gem that made the world brighter for having lived in it.

The deceased leaves to mourn his death, his wife, two daughters, one son, four sisters and four brothers; they are: Martin and Herman Enderle of Beaumont, William and Louis Enderle of San Antonio, Mrs. W. F. Knippa of Knippa, Texas; Mrs. Martin Ryne of San Antonio, Mrs. John Rieber of D'Hanis, Texas, and Mrs. Ernest Thorp of Houston.

CALLING APRIL SHOWERS.

After long drawn out wintry days Spring arrived, shedding sunshine rays. Budding trees and pretty flowers Gently beckoning April showers.

Without rain the earth can't flourish. And ere long things soon will perish Blessed raindrops come, softly falling April showers, all nature's calling.

Anxiously we look and wonder, Are those real clouds showing yonder.

Yes, new hope stirs within our breast Lord let us with a rain be blest.

Mrs. Ed de Montel left Wednesday for San Antonio where she will be under medical treatment for several days. She was accompanied by Mesdames H. E. Haass, O. B. Taylor and Fletcher Davis, who returned the same day.

Mrs. Christina Rudinger of D'Hanis was a caller at this office yesterday. She had the address of Mrs. Fred Steinman, her daughter, changed on our mailing list from Borger to McLean. Mrs. Rudinger reported D'Hanis needing rain.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Evans and Mrs. Rachel Butler were here from Medina City Saturday. Mrs. Butler, who was formerly a resident of Black Creek, Medina County, was looking for a small acreage property near Hondo with a view to locating here.

A light shower of rain fell here early Tuesday night, laying the dust and refreshing vegetation. It was too light, however, to long survive the dry, cool west wind that followed and did little if any permanent good. The rain was accompanied by several loud thunder-claps but the rain fell gently.

B. L. Robinson, proprietor of the OST Service Station, in keeping with modern improvements, has just installed new gasoline pumps at his filling station. The pumps are operated electrically and measure automatically. Mr. Robinson, elsewhere in this paper, extends an invitation to all gasoline users to call and see these modern pumps operate.

COLOR PICTURE AT COLONIAL.

Gay caballeros, sparkling-eyed señoritas, soldiers in resplendent uniforms, gay Spanish music, plaintive Indian love songs, bull-fighting—against the background of the romantic early colonization of California by the Spaniards.

This is the pattern upon which Republic's first color picture, "The Bold Caballero", is woven. The story co-starring handsome Robert Livingston and the lovely English actress, Heather Angel, shows Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Colonial Theatre.

Livingston plays a dual role, that of the masked and mysterious Zorro and foppish young dandy of the era. When Heather Angel's father, the governor, is killed, the young lady takes over the governorship and immediately becomes the centre of state and romantic intrigue, which she carries off with high screen honors.

YANCEY SENIORS TO PRESENT PLAY.

There will be, in addition to the three act play, a series of specialties to add to the gaiety of the program. The public can be assured of a pleasant evening of entertainment.

Their names appeared among some twelve hundred teachers who were reported in Monday's San Antonio papers as re-elected.

Following the lightning flashes of Tuesday night's electrical disturbance, two Hondo homes narrowly escaped destruction when radio wires became ignited. Following the thunderclap, Dr. O. B. Taylor discovered the insulation on the radio wires burning and the odor of burnt rubber. He immediately extinguished the flames and no damage was done. Rev. W. S. Highsmith, his neighbor, was not so fortunate. The Highsmiths were away from home and on their return they found the radio smoldering and a large hole burnt in the floor of the room. The fire was extinguished before further damage was done.

AS OTHERS SEE HIM.

The following is the radio script of a sports broadcast given last week in Austin, and which lauds John Russell Crouch, Hondo's contribution to the Texas University champion swimming team, for his brilliant performance at the recent Southwest Conference Meet at College Station:

"Well, a kaleidoscopic panorama of orange and white aquatic streakers streamed across the water horizon yesterday and U. T. marched stoically to its sixth consecutive swimming championship along the speed lanes of southern water sport. And seven standards collapsed before the slashing onslaught of the finest band of collegiate mermen ever to stroke their way to fame in southwestern pools. University of Texas tankers, guided by Tex Robertson at the helm directing the Longhorn attack on the conference rivalry from a half dozen institutions scattered throughout the extensive reaches of the Lone Star loop, copped exactly seven of the ten events uncorked at Aggie land in College Station yesterday. And as the saffron shirted state steppers skidded to the front for the sixth straight time in southern competition, little Johnny Hondo Crouch it was, who skipped through the glimmering, glittering green depth and emerged high point delegate for the meet; and the slim, speed-specialized U. T. star flicked the briny deep for a first slot in the 100 yard individual medley with the new conference mark of 1:04.2 as well as capturing the initial slab in the backstroke competition with another patented standard of 1:08.7 for said distance. And then to these newly acquired laurels, the peerless U. T. navigator whipped his power-loaded body through the waves in the anchor leg of the medley relay in record time as the University of Texas aces shaded the old mark of 3 minutes 27 and 4 seconds by 8.8 seconds and negotiated the medley in 3:18.6. And thus, a State soph sensation slithered to the vanguard and moved to the front in the annual conference swim flight as diminutive Johnny Hondo Crouch outstepped his orange and white collaborators and cascaded to the top in individual honors of the southwest conference aquatic title meet in College Station last night. . . .

"And thus, yesterday, with Johnny Crouch heading the U. T. offensive shelling in his uncanny fashion as his blazing speed carried him along to the initial spot among all southern aquatic performers, the orange-dab legations of the University of Texas sped to its sixth swim title in as many years, and once again, as in the inspirational meets of yesteryear, was speed and style conducive to a Longhorn triumph, and so once more the saffron-tipped flag emblematic of southern supremacy along the difficult and disastrous trail of stamina and style in southwestern waves, floats proudly over the mast of the University of Texas. —J. E. R."

Effect of Wagner Act Validation on National Labor Policy and Supreme Court Controversy—President Orders Curtailment of Expenditures.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD © Western Newspaper Union.

VALIDATION of the Wagner act brought the administration up against the necessity of formulating a new national labor policy to prevent strikes and to determine what course shall be followed when collective bargaining is unsuccessful. For this purpose Secretary of Labor Perkins invited 33 leaders of industry and labor to attend private meetings in Washington, stating they would be asked to discuss the need of new safeguards for industry to balance the gains achieved by labor under the Wagner act. Among those Madame Perkins invited were William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor; John L. Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization; Myron C. Taylor, board chairman of United States Steel corporation; Gerard Swope, board chairman of General Electric corporation; Harper Sibley, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and government officials.

Certain of the President's advisers have told him a law requiring the incorporation of labor unions should be passed; or that at least there should be a law similar to the British trades union act which provides that all union funds must be accounted for to the government and that unions cannot participate in sympathy or general strikes.

Organized labor always has opposed any such legislation and probably would continue to fight against it.

John L. Lewis thinks one result of the Wagner act decisions may be the abandonment of the sit-down strike, though this, he says, depends on the attitude taken by employers in the operation of the act. "Under the court's decision," says Lewis, "workers now have machinery for adjudication of disputes and the making of contracts with employers. Everything depends on the attitude of employers, who showed no disposition to be generous although the right of labor to gather together for its protection had been conceded for a lifetime."

HOW does the upholding of the Wagner labor relations act affect the battle over the President's plan to enlarge the Supreme court? That question arose at once on announcement of the decisions and received various answers. Opponents of the President's bill declared the necessity for such a measure, if it ever existed, was entirely removed by this showing of liberal tendencies by a majority of the court; and many supporters of Mr. Roosevelt admitted that some compromise such as the appointment of two new justices instead of six, might be advisable. But the President himself let it be known that he wished his program pushed through without modification. The favorable majority of one, created by the shift of Justice Roberts, did not seem to him safe enough.

This position of the President was taken also by some of his cabinet members. Secretary of Agriculture Wallace declared that agriculture could expect nothing from the Supreme court as now constituted, and urged American farmers to give the Roosevelt plan their earnest support.

Attorney General Cummings declared that the four justices who dissented from the court's decision that the Wagner act is constitutional still constitute a "battalion of death" and will continue to oppose all major New Deal social legislation.

John L. Lewis, head of the C. I. O., asserted the Supreme court had demonstrated its "instability" anew and that the Wagner act decisions only made more imperative the need for enlarging the court.

Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, whip of the senate, predicted that the President's court plan would emerge from the judiciary committee "a much compromised, amended and generally transformed measure."

CHIEFS of executive departments, independent officers and other spending units of the government were called on by President Roosevelt to reduce expenditures up to the end of the fiscal year June 30. In his letter to them the President said:

"It is apparent at this time that the revenues of the government for the present year will be materially less than the amount estimated in my budget message of last January; and, hence, the deficit will be far greater than was anticipated unless there is an immediate curtailment of expenditure."

"You will carefully examine the status of appropriations for your activity with a view to making a substantial saving by eliminating or deferring all expenditures which are not absolutely necessary at this time. You will report to me through the acting director of the budget not later than May 1, 1937, the steps which you are undertaking to reduce expenditures and the amount of the estimated saving resulting therefrom."

SOUTHERN congressmen found they were no longer in the saddle when the house by a vote of 276 to 119 passed the anti-lynching bill. The debate was furious and the representatives from the South were deeply resentful.

"For more than 100 years the people of the South have kept life in the Democratic party," declared Representative E. E. Cox of Georgia, "and now that that party has grown powerful it turns upon the South and proposes to pass this wicked and cowardly law. This bill is directed just as much against the South as any reconstruction bill passed after the Civil war."

The bill was sponsored by Representative Joseph Gavagan of New York whose district includes the big negro city of Harlem. It provides that any state officer who surrenders a prisoner to a mob shall be guilty of a felony and subject to prosecution and severe penalties. In addition, the county in which a lynching occurs shall be liable for $2,000 to $10,000 damages, to be paid to the family of the lynched person.

Proponents of the measure were greatly aided by a mob in Mississippi that took two negroes from a sheriff and tortured and burned them to death. The local authorities were supine and called the shocking affair a "closed incident."

MITCHELL HEPBURN, premier of Ontario, reiterating his determination not to permit C. I. O. representatives from the United States to take part in negotiations for settlement of the strike in the General Motors of Canada plant at Oshawa, promised to "call out an army if necessary" to protect the property of the corporation. Hugh Thompson, U. A. W. A. organizer, barred by Hepburn, threatened that every General Motors plant in America would be closed unless the Oshawa strike were settled soon with recognition of the union demands. Homer Martin, president of the U. A. W. A., called Hepburn a number of unpleasant names. The Toronto Trades and Labor Council pledged the support of its 40,000 members to the union's strike against General Motors.

Premier Hepburn

eral Motors plant in America would be closed unless the Oshawa strike were settled soon with recognition of the union demands. Homer Martin, president of the U. A. W. A., called Hepburn a number of unpleasant names. The Toronto Trades and Labor Council pledged the support of its 40,000 members to the union's strike against General Motors.

Hepburn forced two of his ministers to resign, charging they were not supporting the government in its fight "against the inroads of the Lewis organization and communism in general." They are David A. Croll, who held the labor, municipal affairs and public welfare portfolios, and Attorney General Arthur W. Roebuck. Axel Hall, young mayor of Oshawa, who has been friendly to the strikers and critical of Hepburn's action, sent an "ultimatum" to President Martin of the Automobile Workers of America demanding that members of the union in the United States strike in support of the Oshawa local. The latter body adopted a resolution demanding that Premier Hepburn withdraw from the negotiations to make way for intervention by the dominion authorities.

In Montreal 5,508 women garment workers, members of the C. I. O. international union, employed in 72 plants, started a strike for higher wages; and in Fernie, B. C., 1,000 C. I. O. miners threatened to strike for union recognition.

WHEN George VI is crowned king of Great Britain on May 12, Robert Worth Bingham, our ambassador to London, and James W. Gerard, President Roosevelt's special ambassador to the coronation, will appear in Westminster abbey garbed in silk knee breeches and ordinary evening tailed dress coats. The State department in Washington consented to a modification of the ruling which bars American diplomats from wearing gala clothes at state functions. The costume decided upon is not full court dress but the duke of Norfolk, who is earl marshal, will let it go as such.

FOR the second time in two years the house passed the Pettingill bill to repeal the "long and short haul" clause of the interstate commerce act. This law prohibits railroads from charging lower rates for a long haul than for a shorter one on the same route in the same direction, and it hampers the roads greatly in their competition with water and truck carriers for long distance traffic.

BEFORE this session of congress closes it is probable the law providing for publication of salaries of corporation employees who receive $15,000 or more a year will be repealed. The house ways and means committee already has voted unanimously in favor of recommending such action and the law now has few supporters in congress.

Chairman Robert L. Doughton explained that much criticism has developed as a result of the law which was passed in 1935. The salary lists which have been published have been used as mailing lists by companies selling luxury articles and in the case of some huge salaries they are thought to have been used by criminals contemplating kidnapping or blackmail.

THE United States coast guard cutter Mendota paused briefly during her regular ice patrol in the north Atlantic and, her engines stilled and the church pennant at the masthead, floated over the place where the Titanic struck an iceberg and sank 25 years ago, carrying 1,517 persons to their death. For nearly a quarter of a century the coast guard cutters have guided shipping through the dangerous ice area without an accident, their motto being "Never another Titanic disaster." They are on the job until the last iceberg has disappeared.

FIVE history-making decisions were handed down by the Supreme court, all upholding the validity of the Wagner labor relations act and inferentially broadening the interstate commerce clause of the Constitution. The most important ruling made by five of the nine justices and read by Chief Justice Hughes, was in the case of the Jones & Laughlin Steel company and directed the reinstatement of ten discharged employees. The decision supported the constitutional basis of the Wagner act, finding it a legal "scheme" to protect commerce from injury resulting from the refusal of employers to accept the procedure of collective bargaining.

Chief Justice Hughes

The broad constitutionality of the act, was strongly noted by the chief justice. He declared that: "We think it clear that the national labor relations act may be construed so as to operate within the spirit of constitutional authority."

Hughes defined the right of employees to self-organization and to select their representatives for collective bargaining as "a fundamental right."

Regarding the vital point of the application of the interstate commerce clause of the Constitution, Hughes declared:

"The congressional authority to protect interstate commerce from burdens and obstructions is not limited to transactions which can be deemed to be an essential part of a 'flow' of interstate or foreign commerce. Burdens or obstructions may be due to injurious action springing from other sources."

In the case of the Associated Press, concerning the dismissal of Morris Watson, a New York editorial employee, the court was split, 5 to 4. The majority opinion, read by Justice Roberts, held that the act does not "abridge the freedom of speech or of the press safeguarded by the first amendment" to the Constitution. The court took the view that Watson was dismissed not because his work was unsatisfactory but because of his activities in the Newspaper Guild, and ordered his reinstatement.

The three other cases, in each of which the Wagner act was upheld, involved dismissal of 18 employees by an interstate bus company; a dispute between the Fruehauf Trailer Company of Detroit, Mich., and the United Automobile Workers Union; and a dispute between the Friedmann-Harry Marks Clothing Company of Richmond Va., and Amalgamated Clothing Workers. In the bus case the decision was unanimous; in the others the division was 5 to 4.

DIPLOMATIC representatives of 20 Latin American republics gathered in the Pan-American union building in celebration of Pan-American day and listened to an address by President Roosevelt. This was formal and was broadcast to all the republics, but it was followed by an "off the record" talk which the reporters were not permitted to hear. It was said the President sought to convince the diplomats of the good faith of the United States in its foreign policies, and that, reviewing the promises made by his administration in this respect, he declared them 100 per cent fulfilled.

IT IS the opinion of the Knights of Columbus that communism is responsible for sitdown and other strikes in the United States and Canada, and that national organization of 600,000 Catholic men therefore has started an "endless crusade" against what it terms "the most damnable organization in the world." The program was launched officially by 400 delegates of councils in the New York district and will be carried on all over the country by the Knights.

DOUBLE-TROUBLE

GEORGIE BLAKE stood before his dresser mirror adjusting a lemon colored tie adorned with red spots that matched his red hair.

George was in a deep reverie brought on by the summer weather, the Young People's lawn party, and Miss Mabel Porter.

George was preparing early to escort Mabel to the lawn party that afternoon, when a penetrating call from below stairs punctured his reverie.

"George!" "Yeh, Ma?" He patted his tie, not yet fully conscious of his surroundings. "Your Aunt Cora just phoned and I told her you'd take care of the twins this afternoon. You'd better go right over and get them."

The beatific expression on Georgie's face disappeared instantly and was replaced by one of intense horror.

He dashed out to the stair head. "But, hey, Ma, what about the lawn party?" he called anxiously. "Gee-whiz I can't miss that! Good night!" "You can take the twins with you," his mother answered from the kitchen. "What?"

Georgie raced down the stairs. "Hey, Ma, I can't take those kids to the lawn party. Gee-whiz, wouldn't I look swell draggin' those brats around?"

"Bertie and Bertha are not brats, Georgie Blake," his mother said sharply. "They're your first cousins and you should be more respectful."

"Yes'm," Georgie agreed meekly. He mooched into the front hall and picked up the telephone.

The lawn party was out. Why, if he appeared at that fiesta with Bertie and Bertha there would be an instant riot, with the guests leaving immediately by the most accessible exits.

People did not remain in the presence of those five-year-old terrors any longer than was necessary.

Georgie dialed a number while he stood knee deep in the ashes of his ruined day.

"Hello!" The musical voice belonged to Miss Mabel Porter.

"Hello, Mabel," Georgie said, brightening with a sudden idea. "I just called you up to ask if you wouldn't like to go on a picnic this afternoon."

"Picnic?" Mabel sounded puzzled. "What for?"

"Well, I don't think this old lawn party will amount to much," Georgie said. "Besides," he went on casually, "I have to take care of the twins and I was thinkin'—"

"Not those terrible twins, Georgie?"

"Uh-huh," Georgie moaned. He could feel the air on the wire grow chilly.

"Well, really, Georgie," Mabel said at last, "I ought to go to the lawn party after planning and everything. Ferdie Hoyt wants me to go with him, so I guess I'd better."

"All right," Georgie said, "but I hope he gets ptomaine poison!"

Georgie put down the telephone.

Ferdie Hoyt was the last bitter drop in Georgie's brimming chalice.

Ferdie was the son of Elston's leading banker and citizen, and since his return from school for the summer months had been cutting in on Georgie's time with Mabel.

Is it any wonder that Georgie was blind to the sunshine and the birds as he set out to collect his charges? Bertie and Bertha behaved properly until three o'clock in the afternoon and then they escaped into thin air.

Georgie set out in search of them with a dire warning from his mother ringing in his ears to the effect that if the twins caused any damage he'd have to pay for it out of his own pocket.

Twenty minutes later he found Bertie and Bertha in Judge Blint's front yard.

They were seated in the judge's hotbeds yanking tulip blooms up by the roots.

Georgie clung to the fence for support at the sight of this destruction of horticultural prizes.

There was a familiar sign on the fence: "Beware of the Dog."

It referred to Judge Blint's Ripper, a bulldog with generous teeth and a short temper.

"You come out of there!" Georgie ordered.

"Won't!" the twins chimed. Tulips curved in the air like colored comets. Georgie moaned aloud.

"Old Ripper'll get you," he warned. "Ain't no dog! Ain't no dog!" the twins chanted singsong.

And to every appearance they were right.

Georgie looked carefully around and put a cautious leg over the fence. In another moment he swooped down on the twins.

Immediately there began a dizzy race and a tremendous uproar.

Georgie shouted, the twins shrieked, and suddenly into the midst of the turmoil came the thunderous roars of Ripper.

There was a scramble for the fence in which Georgie was hopelessly outdistanced by the twins, and as they stood peering through the palings shouting encouragement Ripper closed his jaws on the stern of Georgie's flannels. There was a ripping sound as he climbed over and a disappointed bulldog dropped back into the yard.

It is a matter of historical detail to report that there was an expanse of Georgie's new silk underwear showing and it was a brilliant orange.

Perceiving the look in Cousin

Georgie's eye as he climbed the fence Bertie and Bertha left the vicinity in a hurry.

Georgie set off in pursuit. An old man waving a cane shouted, "Bravo! Bravo!" after him, but he didn't stop.

The chase was short and just as Georgie was about to grasp Bertie and Bertha by their collars they turned into the high hedged ground of the First Baptist church and charged full tilt into the midst of the Young People's lawn party.

Unerring instinct led them to Ferdie Hoyt and Mabel Porter.

In full cry Georgie burst into the middle of the curious guests before he realized his whereabouts.

He became conscious of Mabel's hotly accusing eyes.

"Teasing little children," she cried. "Shame on you, Georgie!"

"I—" Georgie gulped, trying not to noticeably sit on his hands.

The twins, quick to perceive the turn of events, began to run a mad circle around the group, shrieking, "Judge Blint's dog bit Georgie's pants! Judge Blint's dog bit Georgie's pants!"

Where there had been titters before there was now open laughter.

A rasping voice penetrated the laughter.

"What's this? What's this?" The elderly man, who had shouted "Bravo!" at him came elbowing his way through the crowd. He was Seymour Hoyt, Ferdie's grandfather. He peered at Georgie with nearsighted eyes.

"Upon my word," he cried, "you're the young man I saw rescue these two children from Judge Blint's vicious dog."

"Well," Georgie began, "I didn't exactly—"

"Now, low, young man," Old Seymour Hoyt exclaimed, "there's no call for modesty over a brave deed well done."

He glared at the group.

"I doubt," he snapped, "if there's one of you would have risked life and limb as this young man did this afternoon. Such bravery is—is—"

"Hey, Mr. Hoyt," Georgie began uneasily, "I—"

"You shut up," Old Seymour ordered testily.

He took Georgie by the arm.

"We'll go up to the house," he said, meanwhile glaring at the abashed lawn party. "If you people will excuse us," he said, "we gentlemen will leave you."

As they started away Old Seymour handed his large tweed cap to Georgie. "For mercy's sake, young man," he hissed, "cover up that underwear. It's the only thing I have against you!"

OH, WAITER!

"Mary had a little lamb—" "Well, what's the rest of the combination breakfast?"

Frozen Grasshoppers in Glacier for Many Years

Probably one of the most curious sights of the world is a glacier full of frozen grasshoppers. This is known as Grasshopper glacier, and is to be seen in Montana, observes a writer in the Montreal Herald. The huge mass of ice, under the crush of which the grasshoppers are buried, is under the shadow of Granite peak, a 13,000-foot mountain. Millions of grasshoppers are embedded in the ice of the glacier, and no one knows how many thousands of years they have been there. Those near the surface are plainly seen through the clear ice.

Just how the grasshoppers came to be in the ice is a matter which has long perplexed scientists. One idea is that the insects were suddenly killed by a cold blast of air when crossing the mountains on one of their periodic flights southward. Falling, they became buried in ice and snow.

Electric-Magnet Finds Tools

Among the most successful ways of fishing for tools lost at the bottom of an oil well a mile and a half deep is a powerful electric magnet which is lowered into the hole. When contact can be made, the magnet lifts them quickly to the surface. Broken bits, tubing catchers, spearheads, slips, ball-er bottoms, and various other metal parts are lost in drilling or later operations and must be recovered or the hole deviated around them. The bigger the hole the larger the magnet that can be used with a consequent greater lifting power. Magnets are constructed from 3 1/2 to 24 inches in diameter. A 9-inch magnet has a lifting power of 1,500 pounds plate stock. The apparatus is installed in a truck on which is mounted the cable drum.

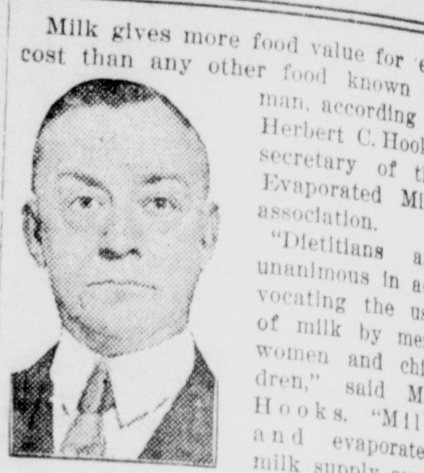

Buried in Mortar

Probably the principal point of interest in Algiers is the tomb of St. Geronimo, a Christian martyr of the Sixteenth century, who was killed by being smothered in a block of mortar. The cast may be seen in the museum of Mustapha Superieur, in the suburbs.

Meaning of Word "Hooverize"

The word "Hooverize" was coined from the name of Herbert Hoover when he was United States food administrator during the World war. It means to economize in the use of food; to use certain foods sparingly or not at all and substitute others.

Milk Gives Most Food Value At Least Cost

H. C. Hooks.

Milk gives more food value for less cost than any other food known to man, according to Herbert C. Hooks, secretary of the Evaporated Milk association.

"Dietitians are unanimous in advocating the use of milk by men, women and children," said Mr. Hooks. "Milk and evaporated milk supply some of all the materials necessary for the growth and maintenance of the body; they furnish energy for work, play and warmth."

"Milk helps repair the wear and tear of the body. It is a good meat for building muscle. Moreover, it is cheaper. A quart of milk will supply as much protein as seven ounces of sirloin steak or four large eggs. Milk, particularly evaporated milk, which has twice the mineral content of market milk, is one of the best and cheapest sources of lime, which is a form of calcium. Infants and growing children need lime to build bones and teeth. It is just as necessary for adults to keep their bones in good condition. One quart of milk, or one pint of evaporated milk, furnishes as much calcium as ten large oranges, thirty-two eggs or twenty pounds of beef. Milk also is a valuable source of phosphorus and supplies a certain amount of iron."

"By some authorities milk is said to be an aid in longevity. Dr. Herman Bundesen, health commissioner for Chicago, gives his prescription for long life as follows: Drink one quart of milk a day and mix with one hour of sunshine. Repeat ad infinitum."

"Due to the efforts of health officials to get across to the public the message of milk, its general use in the United States has advanced tremendously in the last decade. This is especially true of evaporated milk for reasons of its convenience and economy. Housewives know there is no fear of obtaining contaminated evaporated milk, because it is not only the best grade of market milk rendered double-rich by dehydrating, but it is sterilized as well."

Happy Wedlock Sure Thing If Bride Is Cook

By KATHRYN ST. JOHN

Haphazard meals yearly ruin thousands of marriages. Most marital ships would maintain an even keel if brides knew cooking.

Many of the first year's troubles between newlyweds would be avoided if the wife were capable of preparing foods with an experienced hand. Wives are to blame for the failure of many business men in the final analysis. The business man's health depends a great deal on what he eats. And it's up to his wife to see that he gets the right kind of food. A healthfully balanced diet goes a long way toward making the tired business man less fatigued.

The expert home manager sees to it that her husband never comes home to a delicatessen lunch. There is a carefully planned meal waiting for him. The real housewife knows that an unbalanced diet means trouble and avoids it. Likewise, she appreciates the fact that variation in her menus is important. In this connection the following recipes have been selected as an aid to the home manager:

Frozen Salad.

1/2 cup mayonnaise 1/2 cup candied dressing cherries
1/2 cup diced pine-apple 1/2 cup diced apple
4 tbsp. pineapple 2 tbsp. lemon juice
1/2 cup cream 1/2 cup evaporated milk
Mix the fruit and juices. Combine milk and cream, chill and whip; then fold in the fruit and mayonnaise. Pour into a mold and pack in equal parts of salt and ice. Serve on lettuce leaves. This serves eight.

Orange Bavarian.

1 tbsp. gelatin 2-3 cup evaporated milk
1/2 cup cold water 1-3 cup whipping cream
1 cup orange juice 1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 tsp. salt 1/2 cup sugar
Soak gelatin in cold water, add fruit juices, sugar and salt. Heat in the top of a double boiler until gelatin dissolves. Strain and set in pan of cold water. When mixture begins to set, fold in the evaporated milk and cream which have been beaten stiff.

Banana Ice Cream.

6 very ripe bananas 2 cups evaporated milk
1/2 cup lemon juice 2 cups cream
1/2 cup sugar 1/2 tsp. salt
Scrape off adhering fibrous portion on surface of peeled bananas. Mash and rub through a sieve. Add the rest of the ingredients in the order given and stir until all are well blended. Let stand for 20 minutes so that all sugar may dissolve. Freeze in a 1 to 6 salt-ice mixture. This recipe makes 1/2 gallon cream.

THE WAY OF SALVATION.

By Rev. J. T. Horger.

NO. 27.

We now discuss the Fourth Chapter of the Heb. Epistle; which is, perhaps, one of the strangest chapters in the Scriptures on the Reception of the Baptism of the Holy Ghost and the fire; although, it does not use the above phrase; neither "Christian perfection"; nor "The gift of the Holy Ghost"; nor sanctification; nor holiness is used to describe the experience. For that same reason, many people read the Bible clear through, and rarely find the subject of sanctification referred to. Which reminds me of the old Lady, who said, she read the Dictionary clear through, and could never catch the hang of the story. We quote Heb. 4:1-2; "Let us therefore fear, lest, a promise being left us of entering into his REST, any of you should seem to come short of it." Note that the last verse of the 3rd. chapter says; "So we see that they could not enter in." The REST of Canaan.—"because of unbelief." Therefore the Apostle, warns, lest we overlook the promise of entering into the REST of soul, given the believer, by the Holy Ghost, the comforter; which was typified by the entrance of the Israelites into Canaan; where they RESTED from their toil and labors to possess their promised inheritance. 2nd. verse; For unto us was the gospel preached, as well as unto them; but the Word preached did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in them that heard it". Heb. 4:3; "For we which have believed do enter into REST."

Note that it is not Heaven that he is talking about; but a REST of soul, entered into by Faith, now.—"as he said, as I have sworn in my wrath; if they shall enter into my rest; although the WORKS were finished from the foundation of the world. For he spake in a certain place of the seventh day on this wise, and God did REST the seventh day from ALL HIS WORK. Now this thing of receiving the gift of the Holy Ghost, the Comforter, brings perfect REST to the soul, is no small thing in the mind of God; and, therefore, in the creation of the world, anticipating this particular work of grace, which brings perfect REST to the soul, He symbolized the whole process of salvation by six days of labor and the SEVENTH DAY OF REST, which in harmony with is significance as a symbol, God sanctified it and made it holy. And then God commanded to keep His Sabbaths, saying that they are a sign, that is a symbol, between me and you, "that I the Lord, do SANCTIFY you." Ex. 31:13-14. There are few people that realize that every Sunday that passes over their heads is God's sign, or symbol, of their sanctification, either already obtained or awaiting their acceptance thereof.

Heb. 4: 7-10, "Again, he limiteth a certain day, saying in David, today, after so long a time; as it is said, to day if ye will hear his voice, harden your hearts." Note that it is limited to a day. That is, it is NOW; not tomorrow. "In David," in the 95th Psalm by David. "After so long a time" refers to the time that usually occurs from the time one is born of the Spirit till they realize their need, privilege and duty to be sanctified. Therefore, the exhortation, "If ye hear his voice, harden not your hearts." 8th verse, "For if Jesus"—Joshua—"had given them REST, then would he not afterward have spoken of another day." In the first place Moses failed to lead the six hundred thousand into Canaan because of their unbelief; but later Joshua, who is here called Jesus, succeeded in leading the entire Israelites into the land of Canaan, their materialistic inheritance, which was only the TYPE of the Christian's inheritance, which is the gift of the Holy Ghost, with all of His great and glorious blessings upon the soul. 9th verse, "There remained therefore a REST to the people of God." We are told that Bishop Key, who ordained me a deacon in the Methodist church, and was a second blessing Sanctificationist of Southern Methodism, when passing through Seguin, Texas, about 45 or 50 years ago, was asked by the church to preach on sanctification or Christian perfection; and he chose this text, Heb. 4:9. And declared in the affirmative: "There remaineth therefore a REST unto the people of God." Would to God that not only Seguin, but all of Southern Methodism and Northern Methodism, all Protestantism and our Catholic brethren had all turned into, not only to teaching but to seek and obtain this experience set forth in so many forms and manners in the Old Testament, by types, and shadows, and symbols, and prophecies, with here and there an illustrative demonstration of the experience and life.

But in the New Testament, this gift of the Holy Ghost is the most dominant feature and distinctive grace of the Gospel dispensation. And it is brought to us in almost every expression common to our language. We return to Heb. 4:10, "For he that is entered into his REST, he also hath ceased from his own works, as God did from his." That is, when one enters into this soul rest, which consists of the purification of the heart from the fallen nature and the gift of the abiding Comforter, they then cease from their work of pursuit for the fullness of their personal salvation, for the soul is then and there saved from the last remains of sin and filled with God the Father, Son and Holy Ghost; therefore, they REST from their works, as also God rested from His labors when He had created this world. No wonder that He sanctified and made holy the next day and appointed it a day of REST in token of a complete work of CREATION, and a proposed COMPLETE work of redemption according to the WILL of the Father, through the VIRTUE of the blood of Christ, and the EXECUTIVE POWER of the Holy Ghost.

Then the Apostle urges: Heb. 4:11, "Let us labor therefore to enter into that REST, lest any man fall after the same example of unbelief." Notwithstanding that we have so much explanation, exhortation and admonition in God's Word, endeavoring to lead God's children into this grace, yet the great majority of the spirit-born of all our churches are not only destitute of this grace, but are ignorant of this grace and their right, privilege and obligation therein. What a tragedy! How it does affect time! And what will the awful consequence be when revealed in the eternal day! Somebody is to blame, somewhere!

Next, the Apostle encourages us by the all-prevailing Word of God to help us into this glorious REST, Heb. 4:12-13, "For the WORD of God is quick and powerful, and sharper than any two edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, of joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart." "Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do." This is a sort of personification of the WORD of God, the quickened and the quickening spirit of truth pertaining to salvation. It is the same line of thought set forth in St. John 1:1-5. "In the beginning was the WORD, and the WORD was with God, and the WORD was God." It applies to Christ, endued and represented by the Holy Ghost. In other words, it is the supernatural presence of God the Father, the Son, and Holy Ghost, standing ready to convince, convict, aid and support in our every effort to enter into the REST set forth by the Apostle. "Seeing then we have a great high priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the son of God, let us hold fast our profession." That is, let us hold fast to our faith in the promise. "Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy and grace to help in time of need." Literally, that we may obtain mercy and grace to help us unto this REST, the goal of these last two chapters.

HONDO COLORED SCHOOL HAS BIG DAY.

Friday, April 16, was a big day in Hondo when the Colored school entertained the annual school meet. Seven schools were represented.

The indoor activities were declamation, spelling and arithmetic. The outdoor activities were soft ball for both boys and girls.

Hondo led in honors, both in literary and out-door work.

That night one-act plays and choral singing were presented by Uvalde and Hondo with Hondo winning both honors.

The schools that were present were as follows: Del Rio (2 schools), Brackettville, Uvalde, Kerrville and West San Antonio Heights.

The meet was backed by the P. T. A. A free barbecue dinner was given to the visitors and the people of Hondo by the P. T. A.

We realized more than ever the need of a school building as accommodations were very poor.

The finances were very good from the refreshments and night program. We took in $60.35, most of which was spent in Hondo with Hondo merchants.

We thank all who participated in this affair.

We also thank our white friends who aided us so wonderfully.

We are looking forward for the time when we will have adequate school facilities for a bigger and better program.

1937 Ford V-8

• If you think that "all low-price cars cost about the same" — forget it! They don't.

Ford makes a car — a 60-horsepower economy Ford V-8 — that sells from 30 to 60 dollars under the prices asked for any other car of comparable size. The lowest Ford prices in years!

Check delivered prices in your town and see for yourself.

• Of course, first cost doesn't prove "low cost" — you must consider operating cost also.

The "60" has definitely established itself as the most economical car in Ford history. Ford cars have been famous for economy for 34 years, so that means something!

Owners who have driven it thousands of miles report that the Ford "60" averages between 22 and 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline.

You can prove those figures — on the open road — in a car provided by the nearest Ford dealer.

• When you've finished your personal check-up, ask yourself:

"Do I want to save money the day I buy my car and every mile I drive it?"

"Do I want a safe, roomy, comfortable car of advanced design — created from the finest materials to the highest precision standards?"

There's only one answer, of course — the 1937 Ford V-8.
